About

The American Agents Alliance, a member-driven organization since 1962, empowers independent insurance agents and brokers to thrive through advocacy, education and networking.

The 2019 American Agents Alliance Conference & Expo is the perfect opportunity for you to connect with producers and tell them about your products and services. Be an exhibitor or sponsor at the largest P&C event in the west!

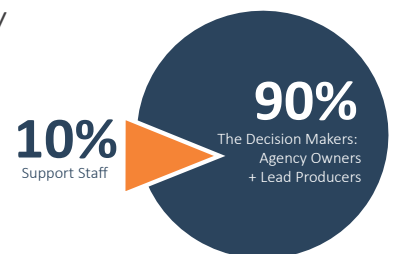

Each year we host the largest property and casualty conference in the west. Year after year this event earns high marks within the industry and is the perfect opportunity for exhibitors to build new relationships and strengthen existing ones.

This year's conference is taking place at the 4-star JW Marriott Desert Springs Resort & Spa, September 26-29, 2019. This unique conference is planned, produced and promoted in partnership with over 100 exhibitors. Its focus is simple—to educate, empower and connect independent insurance agents and brokers with some of the industry's top insurers and suppliers.

The American Agents Alliance Conference & Expo attracts 1,500+ insurance professionals for this special event that includes over 100 exhibitors on our trade show floor, many hours of continuing education + workshops, our annual golf tournament, powerful keynote addresses, and an assortment of luncheons, hospitality receptions, evening social events and much more!

Attendee Profile

The American Agents Alliance Conference & Expo offers insurance agents and brokers the opportunity to obtain carrier appointments, participate in continuing education programs, network and enjoy a lively trade show floor. We are one of the only conferences that caters to property & casualty agencies, as well as health & life agents. A distinguishing feature is that our conference is primarily attended by agency principals, owners and producers.

Exhibitor Testimonials

Michael Orefice, SVP Marketing at Contactability:

"Another GREAT SHOW! Special thanks to your entire team! Great attendance, well organized and professionally run! Thank you again."

Greg Liewald, VP Sales and Marketing at BindDesk:

"I was late to sign up and the crew over there was amazing. Laura, Karen and Autumn all went out of their way to work with this rookie! They answered all of my questions, had tremendous organization, and really helped me have the best conference possible. Thank you again!"

Charles Bobo, Chief Marketing Officer at Bridger Insurance:

"Our first year at the American Agents Alliance in Palm Desert far exceeded our expectations. As a late registrant, we were concerned about being located in the foyer. However, that turned out to be a good choice, since the staff set up the flow in and out of the conference hall to be consistent enough that we had a steady flow of agents throughout the day. Additionally, the staff was exceedingly helpful in handling last-minute requests, and being positive and upbeat throughout the show. They were a pleasure to work with. We will definitely be attending again next year."

Alyson Goryl, Branch Manager at F.L. Dean & Associates of California, LLC:

"Such a great show! Best attendance I have seen at any show in a while. Thanks for all the hard work putting it together."

Andy Bloom, Senior Territory Manager at Alliance United Insurance:

"The American Agents Alliance Conference and Expo continues to be the "go-to" event for Alliance United. We have been the Premier Sponsor attending this event for many years. It affords us the opportunity to connect our entire team with our brokers from all over the state in one place. The Alliance staff are always very helpful and accommodating to make sure we have a great conference experience. Alliance United wishes to thank the American Agents Alliance team for all their work in providing a great venue, schedule, content, and an overall good time. "

Dan Faggiano, Field Sales Trainer, Progressive Insurance

"Progressive enjoys a long-lasting partnership with the American Agents Alliance and really enjoys the annual conference for Independent Agents in California. The support the Alliance provides to California agencies and carriers is amazing. Each year we are impressed with their professionalism, care and responsiveness to carrier and producer needs. The entire staff work tirelessly to coordinate and schedule meaningful events that allow participants unique engagement opportunities with producers and companies alike. We want to recognize the Alliance and their conference for supporting California agencies to help them grow and providing agency support. Thank you!"
